352 RARE TAPESTRY OF THE ROYAL MANUFACTURE OF FELLETTIN

FRENCH, LATE 17TH CENTURY

ALEXANDER THE GREAT AND THE WIVES OF DARIUS, AFTER CHARLES LEBRUN

Charles Lebrun, the celebrated director of the manufacture of the Gobelins, made among others a series of cartoons depicting the story of Alexander the Great. The cartoons are now in the Louvre Museum in Paris; the tapestries were executed by the manufacturer of the Gobelins. This famous series was frequently copied. A Flemish copy exists at the Metropolitan Museum. The present tapestry is of a series executed by the Royal manufacture of Felletin. Felletin and Lamarche are small tapestry-weaving establishments which never gained the reputation of Gobelins and Beauvais in spite of royal encouragement. The present tapestry represents Alexander the Great entering the tent of the women of Darius after the battle of Issus. It has vivid and bright colors and transposes the classic pomp of Lebrun into a language of provincial naïveté not without charm. The tapestry is signed on the lower border, M. R. De Feletin, J. D., a very unusual occurrence.
